LAND OF THE ONTEORAS

In the Land of the Onteoras

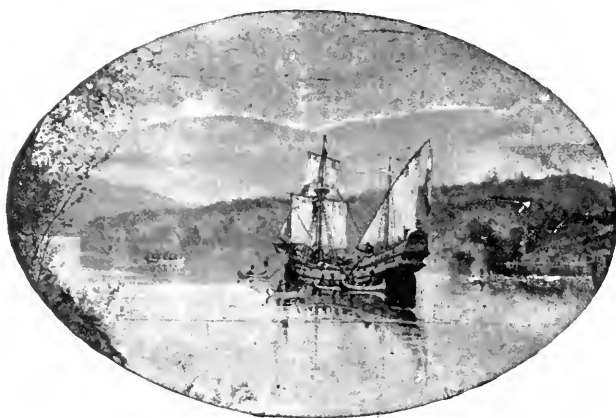

OUR SUMMER PARADISE

A land of Beauty and Delight
Of Romance and Adventure bold
Where mountains rise from height to height
And fairest scenes so dear unfold:
Where dasied meadows wide outspread
And lakes of silver fair enshrine
Deep forests spicy odors shed
Through air that stirs the blood like wine—
A land of Life 'neath sunny skies—
Our Summer Land of Paradise.
Hither come Our Friends from Everywhere
And sharing all we have
There's more to spare. F. A. Gallt.

Great Hudson, Mighty King—
And fair Half Moon,
Your modest ship of state—
Whence came you up our river?
To see these Mountains great?
You sought not age long glory
But left an honored name—
For Hudson Bay and River
Hath brought you added fame.

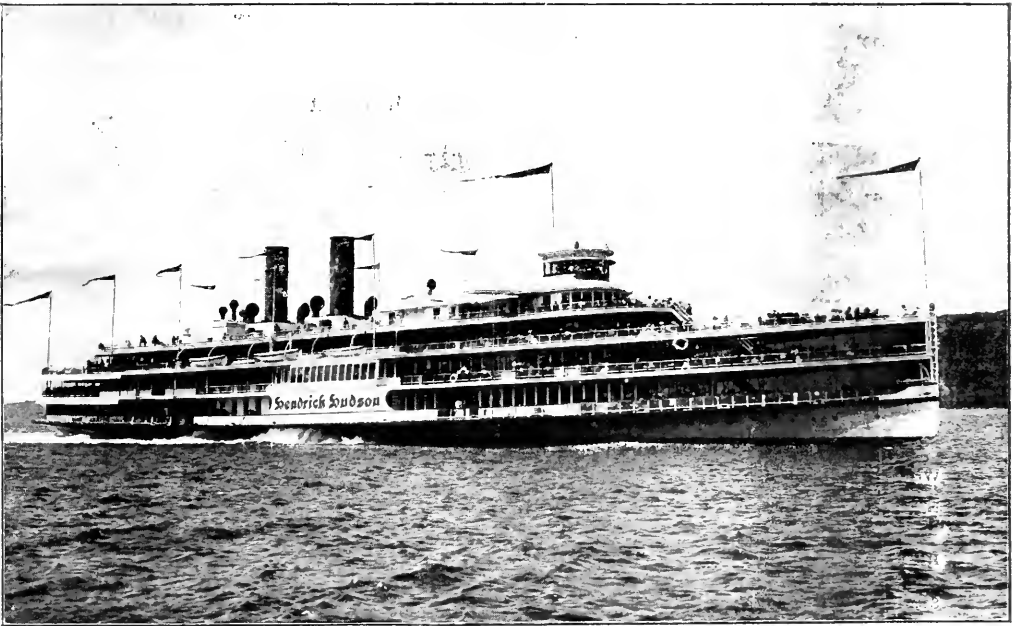

HENRY HUDSON 1609

It is not disputed that Hendrick Hudson in the Half Moon visited Catskill in 1609, after a trip of several weeks up the Hudson River. Just how long he remained does not matter. Indians met him in their bark canoes. Doubtless they were members of the five tribes who gave names to the streams, and mountain ranges. The Indians called the river Mahacannuck, and they called the mountains the Onteoras. They regarded the Half Moon as the Manitou or Great Spirit.

Spirit indeed it was, for as time rolled on came civilization to the section, the sloops being followed by steam vessels, of which the Clermont was the first steamer in 1807. Other boats followed, Armenia, Alida, Francis Skiddy, Daniel Drew, and many other great steamers, the last and greatest being the great floating palaces of the Day Line, of which the Hendrick Hudson, Robert Fulton and Washington Irving take their names from the great historicals that made famous the region of the Catskill Mountains.

"CLERMONT" 1807

The Clermont sailed from Paulus Hook (Jersey City), Sept. 4, 1807, at 6 a. m. and arrived at Albany on Saturday, Sept. 5th at 6 p. m. Steamers make the trip now in 8 hours and the fast N. Y. Central trains in 3 hours. Fulton's boat, which appeared in the Hudson Fulton parade, could make about 3 miles an hour.

The first locomotive was the DeWitt Clinton, made at West Point and was taken to Albany by boat, where it was put in operation on the Mohawk-Hudson Railroad. It made the trip to Schenectady in one hour and 45 minutes. This was a speed of 7 miles an hour. The third railroad in the state was from Catskill to Oak Hill and the cars and locomotive were of the same pattern, which we show in cut.

Compare all of this with the present day boats, trains, automobiles and air ships.

Greene county is famous for its mountains, lakes, and waterfalls. There are fourteen towns, and all are more or less devoted to the entertaining of city guests in the summer season, when the vacation time is on. Catskill is the distributing point to the entire section, being the point of landing of the Day Line steamers, and main stations of the N. Y. Central and West Shore railroads.

HAUNTS OF RIP VAN WINKLE

WHERE GORGE'S STREAM GOES RUSHING BY

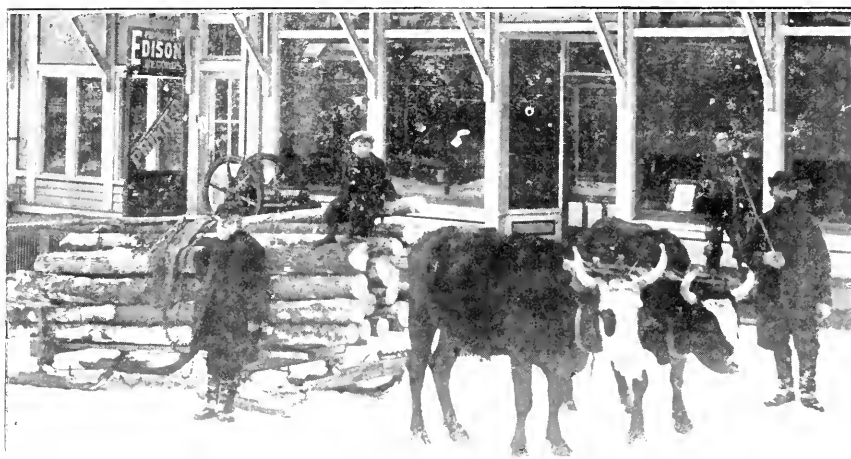

Where Patient Fishers Cast their Fly,

In the Gorge at Palenville.
Where pictured rock to left and right,
Guide travelers to the mountain height.

HAUNTS OF RIP VAN WINKLE

The completion of the two great railroads and the advent of the river greyhounds made possible the boarding industry that has dotted the mountain section with well kept and commodious boarding houses. Good roads and automobiles have served to bring the mountain section within a few hours of the crowded city centers, and the pure air, and health giving influences of the Catskills have made them the resort for millions seeking rest, recreation and health.

The Plodding Ox Once Drew the Load—
The Speeding Motor Now Needs not the Goad

With the advent of the automobile the railroads were forced to give way. State roads were building along the great arteries of travel. The mountain section commenced to get them. The importance of connecting up the mountain section resulted in the building of the Clove road. George B. Van Valkenburgh, Hon. J. Lewis Patrie, George H. Chase and Harding Showers, prominent men of Greene county, were largely instrumental in bringing about the construction of the road. It is readily to be seen that this road is one of the most important in the state at least branching from the great artery of travel north and south, linking up the West Shore, N. Y. Central, Day Line, Evening Line as well as the New York state roads on both sides of the Hudson.

FROM CITY'S DIN TO MOUNTAIN'S CHARMS

The seething city's deafening noise
Grows dim and then no more.
The moving palace glides away—
A new world lies before.

Out of the man-made pit of haste,
Into a world that God made fair,—
Rich in a splendor of glory it lies,
With beauty in riot everywhere,
Along a river brimful of sunbeams
With hills of green piled high around,
Where Echo is full of quips and pranks
And tattles every sound,

Where the valley, like a mother,
Clasps the Hudson to its breast.
While it gazes up with longing
To the Catskill's noble crest.

Deep in the side of a mountain
A brown road climbs around
By a luring pass thru a wonder world
To a Paradise,—lost and found,

And all is sweet in the mountain gorge,
For God meant it so to be.

Perfecting His handiwork, He laid it there
For all His children to see.

Then the brown road bends as a brown road will,

And the whole wide world is seen
From Horse shoe Curve at the great Cross
Cloves

With their gaping gorge between,
The mountain gained,—here Indian Head
Looks sternly from its height;
And Sugar Loaf and the Mountain Twins
Defend the valley's right.

High Peak and Elka looking up,
See Round Top, cloud capped in the sky,
While Onteora,—Hill of God,
Stands modestly and quietly by.

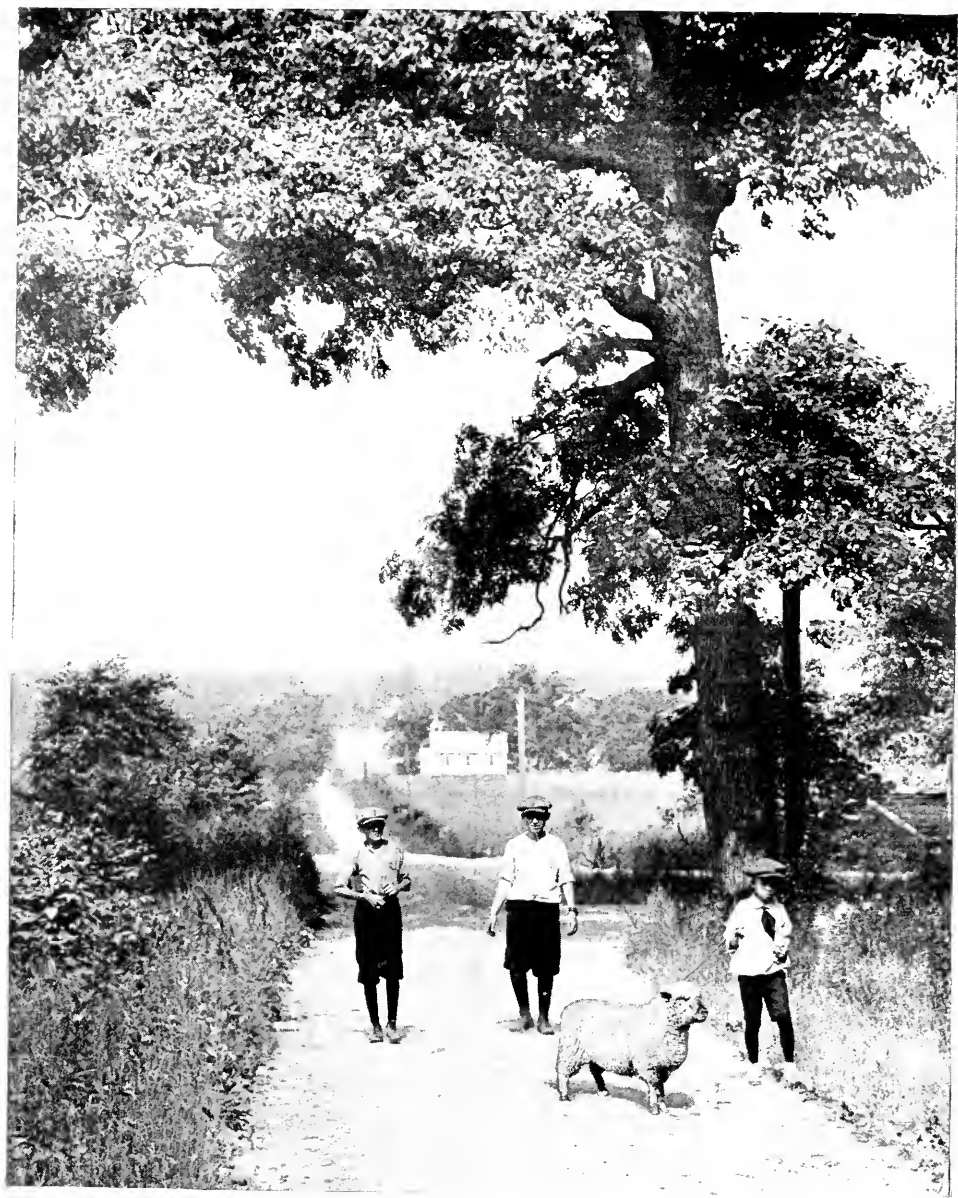

And the calm and the peace and the quiet
Have a charm that bewitches away
A charm for the soul and a charm for the mind

And a charm that will lure you to stay.

CATSKILL VILLAGE

Catskill stands first as the county seat, with a population of 5,400. There are many splendid buildings, including a court house costing $250,000, a Carnegie Library, Y. M. C. A. building costing $40,000, three fine banks, splendid school buildings and model churches, two theaters and many fine stores. There are several large summer boarding houses, and excellent hotels, the Saulpaugh taking the lead. The manufacturing includes knitting mills, cement plants, brick yards, glass works, as well as several large and well equipped garages. The garages are Post's, Lacy & Norton, Catskill Tire and Vulcanizing, Timmerman's, and Barlow's.

Catskill is on the main line of state roads, and two great main routes to the interior start at Catskill. The East Windham route, and the Palenville Haines Falls route. Palenville at the foot of the mountains and Haines Falls at the top.

Catskill Point Docks of Day Line and Evening Line

Catskill is reached by automobile lines from the rural sections, New York Central and West Shore Railroads, and several lines of steamers, chief of which is the Day Line from New York and Albany, and the Newburgh Line. Catskill has a municipal ferry which makes several trips hourly.

The village has electric light and gas plants and owns its water plant. Water that has always stood the most exacting test.

Good state roads main line between New York and Albany, state road to Leeds, Cairo, Windham, and Prattsville. State road most of the way between Catskill and Stamford and Oneonta, via Tannersville. A splendid road connects Catskill with Palenville, where the new Clove road, the most wonderful in the world reaches to the mountain top and the mountain section. At Hunter, state road to Hensonville and the Windham Prattsville road.

There are bus lines from Catskill to Leeds, Green Lake, Cairo, Palenville, Cementon, Alsen and Saugerties. There are large boarding houses at Leeds, Green Lake and Palenville.

Boarders from Perry House Bathing in Green Lake

Green Lake is the largest sheet of water in the county, and has fine boating and fishing.

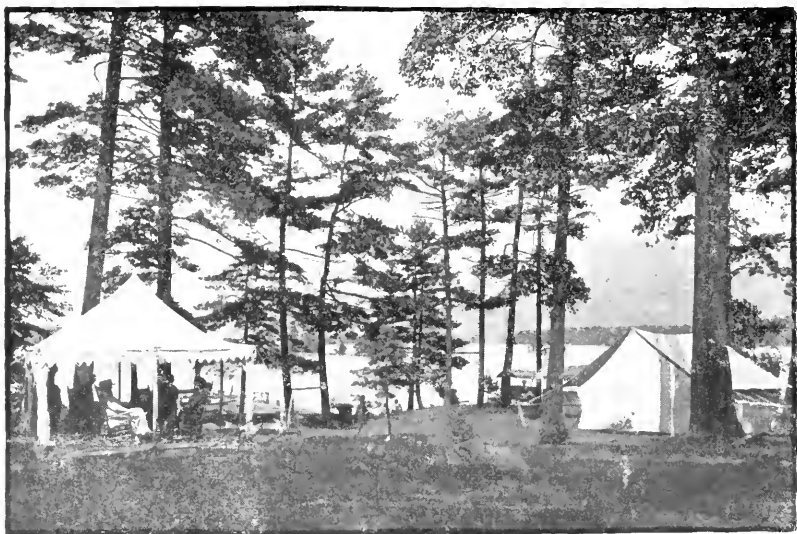

HAUNTS OF RIP VAN WINKLE

This is the route to the marvelous land of Rip Van Winkle. Westward, Ho, from the Catskill section, or from either Kingston or Saugerties this Clove road appeals to the automobilist.

First the blue line of the distant mountain greets the traveler. As he presses on through open expanse of field and stream, hilltop and forest, and to the top of the mountains the ever changing beauty is most impressive. Up and onward, you are at the pinnacle.

You are in the land of sunrise and sunset. Here Natty, the great author, "Saw Creation."

This is the great amphitheatre where thousands spend their summers. Every farm has its cottage and every village its large and well equipped big boarding houses. The summer guest chooses between the quiet farm house or the larger hostelry with its many and varied attractions.

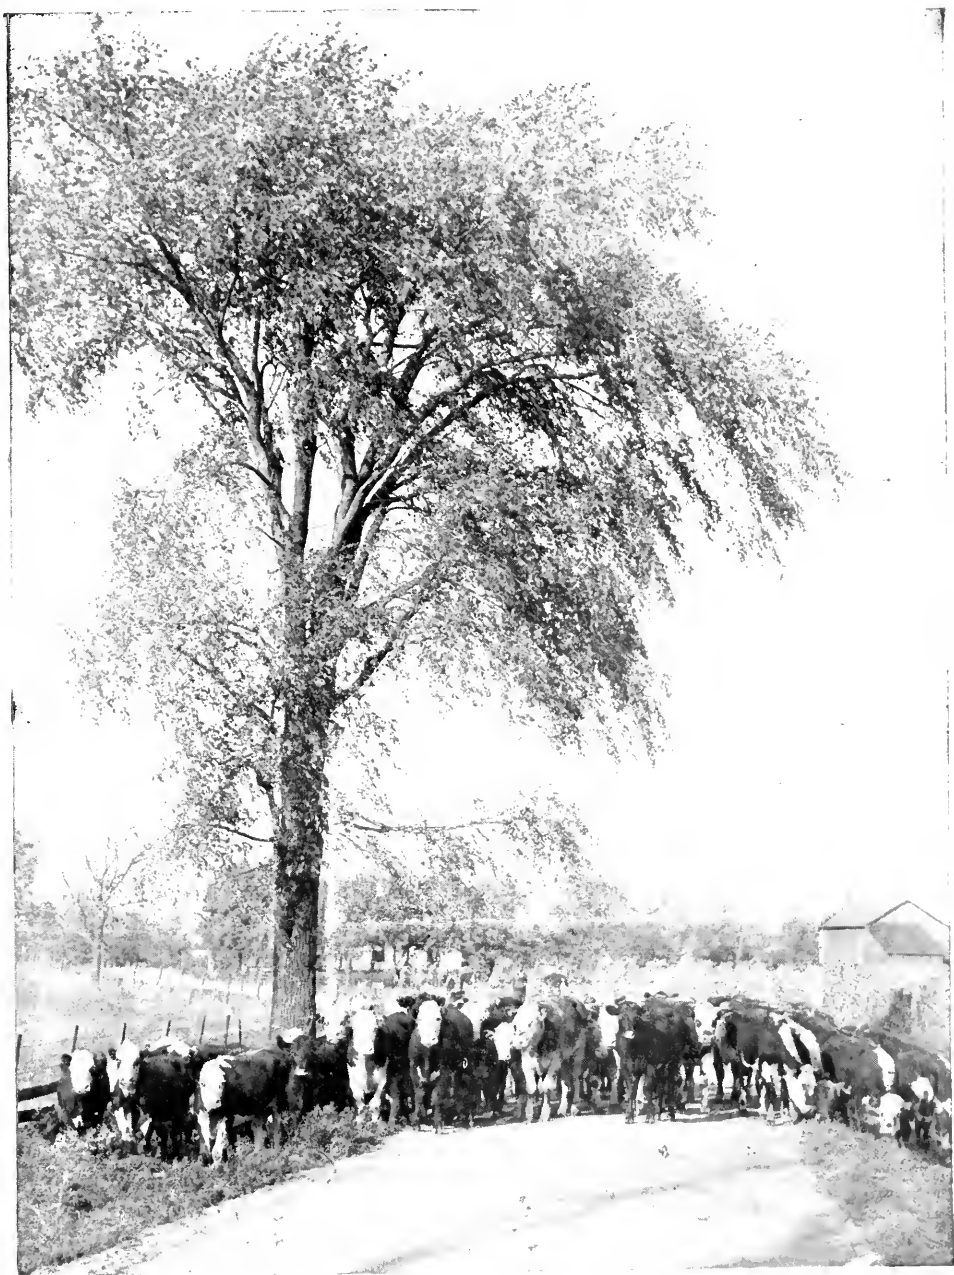

Campers Enjoying the Life in the Open.

Here you have wonderful fishing and many fine boats. The woods are traced with footpaths to places of note.

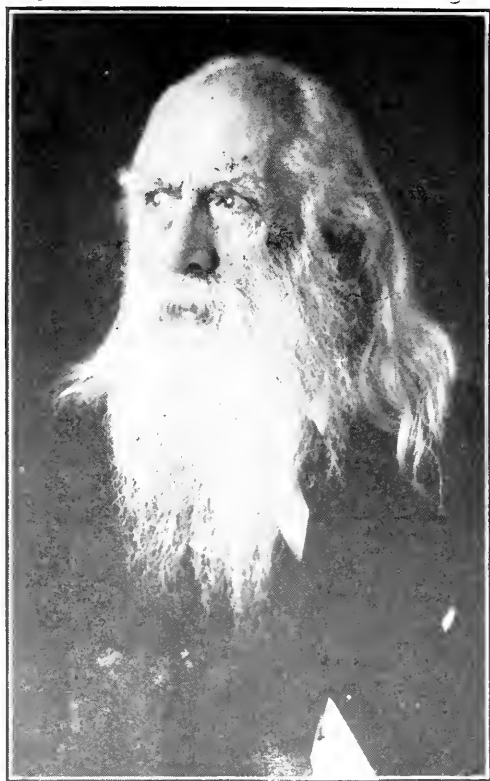

At Haines Falls and Tannersville the tourist or summer guest is in the land of the parks. Beautiful cottages and mansions, where the builders have not forgotten to erect their places of worship and have built splendid churches. Sunset Park, Twilight Park, Santa Cruz Park, Onteora Park, Elka Park. Here are found the summer mansions or modest cottages of the business leaders in the great cities, New York city leading.

Once at the mountain top there are fine state roads that stretch away to other points of the resort section. On the main road west Haines Falls, Tannersville, Hunter, Lexington, Prattsville and thence to Grand Gorge, Stamford, Harpersfield, North Kortwright, Davenport and Oneonta. North from Haines Falls or Tannersville, Onteora Park. North from Hunter by state road Hensonville, Windham, East Windham, Ashland.

HEART OF THE CATSKILLS

The most wonderful view in the state is to be had from the Catskill mountains where many mountain ranges and some 60 miles of the Hudson River are in sight.

View from Catskill Mt. House.

Palenville nestles at the foot of the mountain and entrance to the New Clove Road. A picturesque town with many fine boarding houses.

Haines Falls at the mountain top is a popular summer resort with many large boarding houses, exclusive of those located in the three parks.

Tannersville, two miles from Haines Falls, is the metropolis of the mountain section. Has fine stores, hotels, bank, theatre, churches and garages. Many large boarding houses. A live Chamber of Commerce.

Another View Kaaterskill Falls

LAND OF THE ONTEORAS

The Kaaterskill Clove, through which passes the wonderful new state road to the top of the mountains, is one of the most wonderful glens. Towering gorges, whose sides rise hundreds of feet, the rushing stream, plunging over dizzy heights in scores of cascades, are alone worth a trip of hundreds of miles to see. Haines Falls at the head of the gorge has a plunge of 260 feet and the Kaaterskill Falls is still higher. These are the two greatest of the cataracts. The Five Cascades, Fawns Leap, Bastian Falls, Wildcat Falls, Niobe Falls, Trumbour's Falls, Du Bois Falls and many others are to be seen.

LAND OF THE ONTEORAS

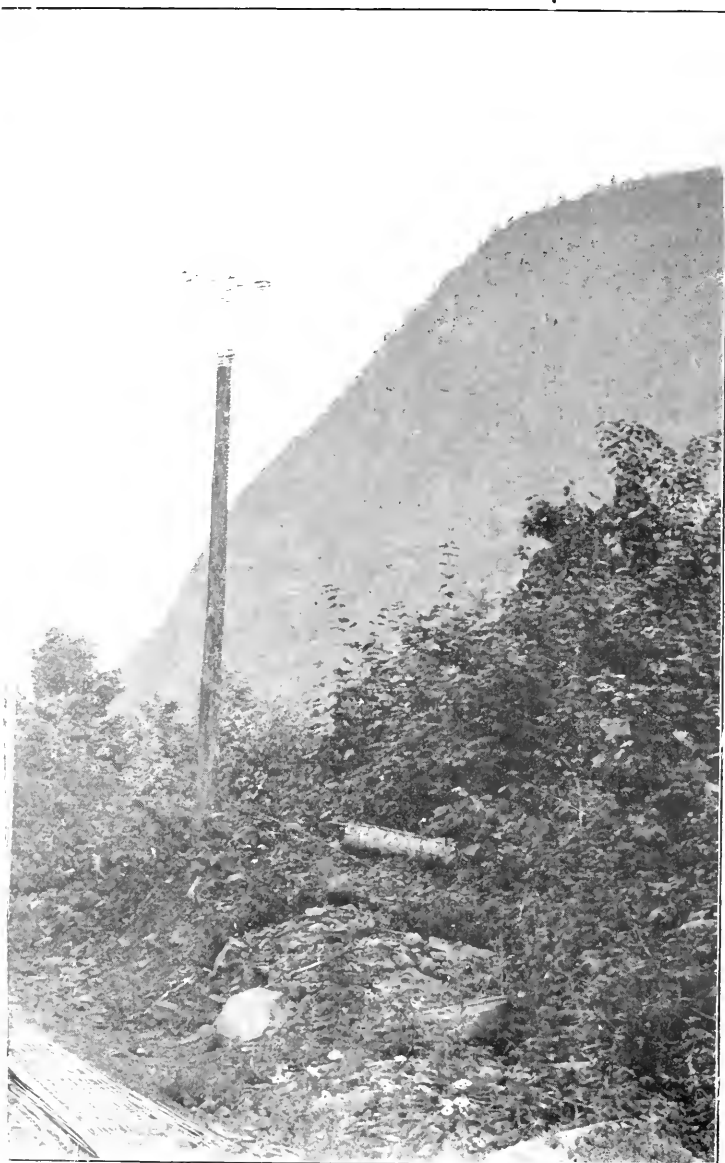

No visitor to this section should fail to make the trip to the mountain top through the wonderful Kaaterskill Clove. The Clove is 8 miles from Catskill on a direct road which is always in good shape, though not a state road. The Clove extends for four miles, commencing at Palenville and following a rushing mountain stream through one of the most picturesque glens in the world. It is an 8 per cent grade road to the very mountain top at Haines Falls. This is on the shortest and direct route to the heart of the Catskill mountains, and good state roads are to be found not only from New York or Albany but all through the mountain section.

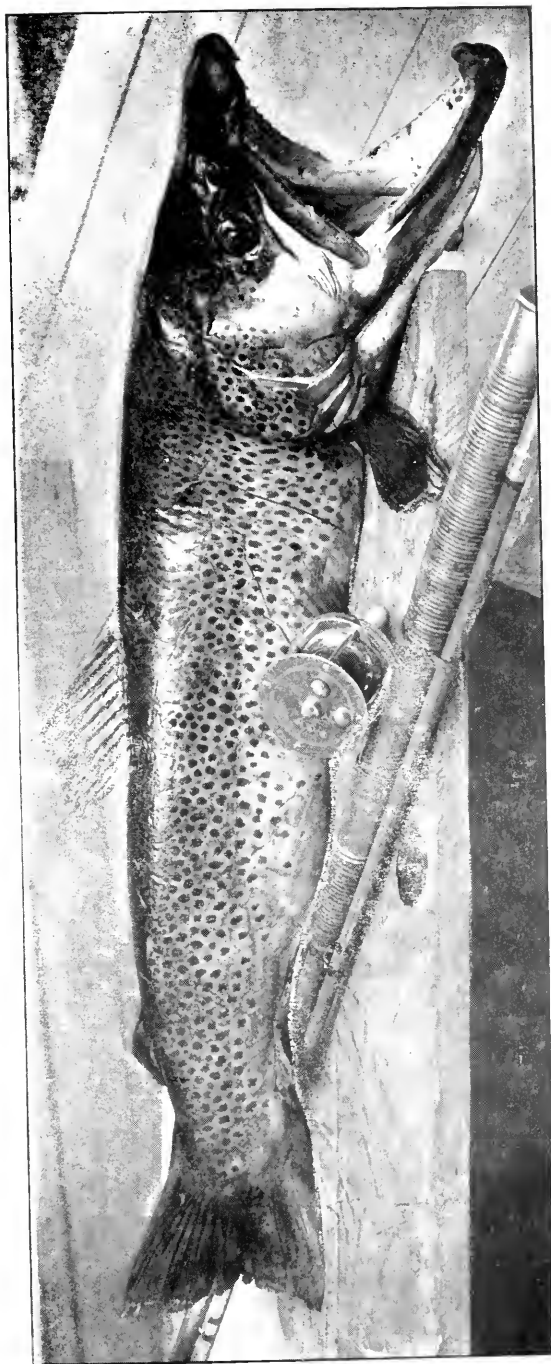

Near the Mountain Top

The route to the top of the mountains for years commencing in 1823 was by a road built by the Catskill Mountain House Company, and a road at Palenville through the clove. Both these roads were very steep and dangerous to travel though thousands traveled over them taking from four to five hours to reach the Mountain House or Haines Falls. In order better to accommodate the throngs the Catskill Mountain railroad and Otis Elevating railroad were built at a cost of $750,000.

Scene Near Lake's Bridge, New Clove Road

Here the sun rises in its golden splendor and sets in a halo of purple and red at twilight. Here nature lends a charm, which only those who visit the section can fully appreciate. The pioneers foresaw it all and made possible their fondest dream when in 1823 a road was built to the summit of North Mountain and the Catskill Mt. House erected. The old four horse stage, a wonderful contrivance of its day, conveyed the tourist from Catskill to the mountain house, and great men like LaFayette, Burr and Alexander Hamilton were among those who visited the section. Some of these men went from there to the old Prevost house which we show in another part of this book. The erection of the mountain house has been followed by hundreds of other hostelries and the section has become the health and pleasure summer resort of millions since. There are great hotels like the Laurel House, also a pioneer, Kaaterskill, Antlers, Overlook, Twilight Inn, etc.

LOX-HURST AND COTTAGE

LYNX FOREST
HAINES FALLS, N. Y.

Is located at Haines Falls, on the Catskills, at the immediate head of the renowned Kaaterskill Clove and commands the view through the Clove, across the Hudson Valley. For half a century the Kaaterskill Clove and its surroundings have been known and noted as a region of much singular wildness and scenic beauty, and to include the grandest and most charming scenery in the Catskill Mountains. The site of the house was chosen as the best in the region for a summer boarding house. The elevation is 1,936 feet above mean tide at New York, as shown by actual measurement. The elevation at Lake Creek bridge—one and one-half miles down the Clove—is 1,217 feet, and at Palenville, the foot of the Clove, two miles further—680 feet.

Good trout fishing in June; quail, woodcock and partridge shooting in season.

The three Parks—Sunset Park, Twilight Park and Santa Cruz Falls Park—are one fourth to one-half mile distant, facing and in view of Lox-Hurst.

The Wonderful Clove Road is Now Open to Tourists

All State road to Saugerties and Catskill—Easier route to Haines Falls:

Lox-Hurst is reached from the Hudson river via city of Kingston.

From Kingston by Ulster & Delaware, Stony Clove and Catskill Mountain and Kaaterskill railroads to Haines Falls station, which is but one eighth mile from house. This route passes through the wild Stony Clove Notch, where the mountains rise from either side, almost perpendicularly, to a height of some two thousand feet above the track.
